Subject: BBC Concern Over Tokyo Bureau Use of Scripts.

Dear Jack:

I have just returned from the Joint Coordinating Committee Meeting in London and amongst other things the BBC expressed some concern over the use of scripts for the Home and International Services of the Japanese broadcasts at the Tokyo Bureau. While the use of scripts is entirely acceptable to them if the broadcast program itself is checked against the script to ensure inclusion of all items and adherence to the themes, they fear that you are not in all cases doing this checking.

Please advise me to what extent you are checking the Japanese radio broadcasting against the scripts and comment on the feasibility of extending this check to all scripts used by the Tokyo Bureau.

Sincerely,
